Publishable Summary

DOME 4.0 is a multi-faceted digital data marketplace platform, and brings data consumers, data providers and service providers within one framework to enable data sharing based on ontology standards within the wider framework of Industry Commons. Deliverable D7.3, “DOME 4.0 Business Operation Model”, elaborates a business architecture based on the business model of the project (D7.5), taking into account the persona of the different stakeholders and participants in the platform operation.

In alignment with the efforts reported in deliverable D7.5, “Business Model, Monetisation Routes and Sustainability Action Plan”, this deliverable builds upon the successful experiences in marketplaces of data.

Through this deliverable, different aspects of the business architecture of DOME 4.0 have been elaborated, including business capabilities and realisations of the value chains of business operations for all the stakeholders as well as potential offerings of the platform for such stakeholders.
